

Hospital Wiring Devices

In hospitals and healthcare facilities, nothing can be taken for granted. That's why the devices you choose should come from the source with the largest selection—Cooper.

First there's innovation. These devices offer unique technological advances while exceeding the most stringent hospital grade testing requirements. Then consider our unmatched combination of quality materials and exclusive features: unbreakable construction; nickel-plated, solid brass mounting straps and contacts; neoprene dust and moisture gaskets, a one-piece grounding system, six different plug and connector housing designs; and long-term reliability, backed by a Limited 10-Year Warranty.

Cooper's hospital grade devices: they're the ones to depend on when everyone else is depending on you.
